A New Kind Of Huckster . . .

"The grain or berry called coffee, groweth . . . only in the deserts of Arabia. It is brought from thence and drunk generally throughout all the Grand Seignour's dominions . . . it is good against sore eyes, and the better if you hold you head over it and take in the steam that way."

Anyone who today promoted the drinking of coffee in the foregoing manner, even going so far as to point to its therapeutic value, would be a sitting duck for federal prosecutors anxious to spread their bureaucratic loafs in the mire of deceptive advertising to rescue the fair consumer. But the perpetrator of the coffee endorsement is safe. He lived in 1652.

Since that far day consumers have managed to survive, and even thrive. For centuries, the people have picked the goods and services in the marketplace that suited their fancies. Promotion and advertising helped speed the developments of our time—television, the radio, the telephone, life saving drugs and most of the other miracles of the twentieth century.

The odd part is that consumers are the same kind of people they were several hundred years ago, except they are not quite as superstitious or gullible. They all prey less easily to the dishonest hucksters. Also today, there are laws against misrepresentation and fraud. And yet, "consumer protection" has become a sort of battle cry of politicians and officials who are themselves guilty of a kind-of-hucksterism far more ready than anything in the past. The nostrums they are peddling in the name of "consumer protection" have aptly been called . . . "a progressive reach for more power, assumption of arbitrary positions and the normal human arrogance of undisciplined authority . . ."

The Marines who are Rev. Kuhlman's helpers had a great evening at Shoppenagons Inn last Thursday evening. Preparations had been made for forty—actually forty-two attended the festivities. Shamrocks and flags served as table decorations. The "big eat" were up to Shoppenagons standards with very efficient service. Three leaders were chosen, Clare Burns, Ernie Larson and John Kraage. One guest speaker, Trooper Richard Sweet, gave a helpful talk which struck home in fine fashion. The topic of his address was "Helping Uncle Sam." He urged faithful school work, home duties and cooperation. His equipment as an officer of the law brought out many questions which he gladly answered. In Michigan last year, police were called upon to help find more than 300 boys and girls who were missing from home. Officers Roberts and Cady then showed three reels of excellent new colored pictures taken by Walter Hastings. They were interesting, instructive and inspiring. Michigan indeed offers fine recreational opportunities. Our thanks to the Michigan Department of Conservation and to Trooper Richard Sweet. H. W. K.

Herbert H. Feldhauser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Feldhauser, of Star Route, Grayling, Michigan, has completed his course of studies as an aviation mechanic in the Army Air Forces Technical Training School. His graduation from this technical school now fits him for airplane maintenance and he will be sent to some air base where he will assist in keeping America's Flying Fortresses in the air for Allied victory. In addition to completion of the academic and practical studies as an aviation mechanic he has been thoroughly drilled in military tactics and defense and a course of physical training that has conditioned him to meet all requirements of an American soldier.

The following article was taken from a Puyallup, Washington newspaper of recent date: Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Havens of Puyallup, who were quietly celebrating their golden wedding anniversary at home, were surprised by a group of their friends who met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Osborn and went in a body to congratulate them. Singing and games constituted the evening's entertainment, with supper served in buffet style from a table centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. A gift, to which each of the guests had contributed, was presented to the honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. Havens, who were married in Grayling, Michigan, came to Washington in 1924. They settled first in Seattle, moving to their present home in Puyallup in 1933. Their only daughter, Mrs. Steven Mickey, also resides in Puyallup. Mr. and Mrs. Havens and daughter Agnes will be remembered by many Grayling people. They lived in their home located where the Keyport residence now stands. Mr. Havens was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wright Havens, who built the house owned and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin DeLaMater when it was destroyed by fire recently.

After an eight-year correspondence a Michigan girl and an Australian flier met in Detroit last Tuesday. The young lady is Yvonne Bradley, whose home is in Grayling but who is now employed in an Ann Arbor war plant. He is Sgt. Albert Koorey, bombardier with the Royal Australian Air Force. Eight years ago, Yvonne's sister was corresponding with an Australian girl. In one of her letters the Australian mentioned that she had a brother who would like to write to some American boy. Yvonne read the letter, copied the address and sent a letter herself. She told him about Grayling and the United States. She described the fisheries, the winter sports and the country. She also sent her picture. He told her about Australia and the town of Queanbeyan where he had a brother who had two stores and about life down under. He sent her a picture too. When the war came he entered the army. After November, 1939, the letters were a little less regular. He was able to tell less about the campaigns he was in. But one of his brothers had been killed and another wounded in Syria; a third brother had been wounded at El Alamein. In February, 1943, Koorey transferred to the air force and eight months ago landed in Canada. They began to plan a meeting as soon as a further permitted. Koorey is pleased with the United States, but he doesn't like big cities, and was disappointed in the cold and rainy greeting Detroit gave him. But she looks exactly like her pictures. Yvonne regretted that it was too late for winter sports—she was Queen of the Winter Carnival in 1942—and too early for canoeing. Sgt. Koorey and Miss Bradley spent a week in Grayling. Miss Bradley's fiancé, Pfc. Fred Westholm, is serving with the U. S. Air Corps somewhere in the Pacific.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin P. Hills are visiting their parents in Bloomfield Hills. Robert Clark of Michigan State College spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Clark. Mrs. Joseph Cinciala and Mrs. Harold Rasmussen entertained St. Mary's Altar Society at the home of Mrs. Cinciala Thursday afternoon of last week. Paul Crawford and son Jim spent the weekend visiting their family. Both are working in Detroit. James Kernosky, son of Mrs. Kernosky, is home visiting—his mother and friends. He is employed in Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. George Griffith of Fort Wayne, Indiana, are spending two weeks at their cottage on the AuSable River. Mrs. George Wiggins and her daughter, of Saginaw, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Knibbs. Mrs. Wiggins spent the weekend here. Mr. and Mrs. Alec Atkinson are the proud parents of a baby girl, born Monday morning March 13. She has been named Karen Marie. Wilbur Wiseman of Rogers City spent the weekend with Mrs. Wiseman and daughter, Patsy Karen. Mr. Wiseman is employed as a watchman on the steamer "Cal-cite" owned by the Bradley Transportation Co. of Rogers City. Mrs. Donald Akers returned on Monday from Alpena after a few days' visit there. The Just Us club held their party at the home of Charles Mosher Monday evening. Pinochle was the main diversion. Mrs. Karl Sherman (Helen Pond) of Flint visited relatives in Grayling over the weekend. She accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Vincent, who visited Mr. and Mrs. James Sherman. Francis Brady and daughters, Veronica and Patricia of Lansing are visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Brady. Little Jerome Eldred returned to Detroit after spending a couple of months with his grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Johnson were hosts to six guests at a supper party Thursday evening at their home. Easter decorations made a pretty table at which the guests were seated. High score for contract which followed was held by Mrs. O. P. Schumann and Dr. C. G. Clippert.

Good cooking
is still a touch of this and that.

You can't beat a woman's intuition when it comes to the art of cooking. That's why so many prefer Gas. Only Gas gives you the instant control of heat. Only Gas gives the infinite range of settings, from keep warm to sear. Gas burns clean, and it's economical. For the cost of one meal cooked electrically, you can cook four meals with Gas. There's a wide selection of beautiful and modern Gas ranges on display at dealer or Gas Company showrooms. Many special values if you buy now. Easy terms. One look and you'll know why smart women cook with Gas.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our son and brother Elmer Tahvonen, who passed away two years ago on Easter Sunday, 1965.

Some may think we do not miss him

When at times they see us smile But little they know the heartache Our smiles hide all the while.

We miss you now, our hearts are sore

As time goes by we miss you more, Your loving smile, your gentle face No one can fill your vacant place.

Sadly missed by his mother, sister and brother.

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

It Is Not A Pretty
PICTURE

The crosses in the shadows were real. Three hung there and died in agony... two for their own wrong-doing... one for yours.

That chapter to which the Book lies open — it tells of the scandal... the indignity... the injustice—and the pain. The Hilies?... symbols of what men call Easter Day! When the women found the tomb empty... and were afraid to believe He was risen...

IT is not a pretty picture. IT is the stark reminder of man's distrust of God... and God's love of man.

And you'll let nothing keep you from worshipping your Lord when you stop thinking of IT as a pretty picture. IT happened.

For you — IT happened.

THE CHURCH

FOR ALL...

... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Did You Know
What Members of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ Believe?
We believe that in all matters of controversy upon duty of man toward God, and in reference to preparation fitness for the world to come, the word of God should be decisive and the end of dispute; and that when God directs, man should obey.
We believe that man should worship God in "spirit and in truth", and we claim the privilege for ourselves and all men of worshipping Almighty God according to the dictates of conscience, providing that such worship does not require a violation of the constitutional law of the land.
We believe that all men are bound to sustain and uphold the respective governments in which they reside while protected in their inherent rights by the constitutional laws of such governments, and that sedition and rebellion are unbefitting every citizen thus protected.
We believe God is owner of all things, and requires all men as stewards to use their talents and resources for others rather than for self. Deuteronomy 10: 4; Galatians 5: 14; 6: 2; Matthew 5: 44; 6: 33; 7: 12; 22: 37-40.
We believe in being honest, true, chaste, benevolent, virtuous, and in doing good to all men; indeed, we may say that we follow the admonition of Paul: We believe all things true, we hope for all things good, we have endured many things and hope to be able to endure all things necessary to the glory of God. If there is anything virtuous or lovely or of good report or praiseworthy, we seek after these things.
You are invited to worship with us. The church is on Plum St. at Smith St. Let this Easter be a new beginning for you, wherever you are.

Deer Face Winter's Hour Of Crisis

LANSING — The last two weeks of March will mean life or death for thousands of Michigan deer. Absence of a severe cold spell or a big storm—life. Death, however, should either of these occur.

This is the way biologists of the Conservation Department view the general deer situation on the tail end of one of the most severe winters in many years.

Animals in the west end of the Upper Peninsula and in the Lake Superior watershed remain confined to heavily-browed deer yards by snow three feet deep in many places. Here, starvation losses could be quite severe. In the remainder of the Upper Peninsula, however, winter losses could be light, if the spring is mild.

The northern half of the Lower Peninsula presents a delicately-balanced situation. Losses are being reported, but to date "nothing spectacular," as biologists put it. Animals in the Mio and Gaylord districts are still confined, but in the remainder of the region they are beginning to move about, and this is an indication they might come through with relatively light losses.

In the southern half of the Lower Peninsula, condition of the herd is generally good. The animals are breaking up their heavy concentrations and are on the move again.
